Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

Industrial IoT (IIoT) systems are revolutionizing businesses and the industry as a whole by improving service delivery and increasing productivity. However, IIoTs are subject to a multitude of threats. Cyberattacks can have a catastrophic impact on industrial applications, including stolen proprietary information and physical damage to production systems. The research community has done much work on improving the security of IoT systems. Contributions addressing relevant theoretical and practical aspects as well as state-of-the-art review are welcomed. The Special Issue topics include, but are not limited to:

- IIoT devices and protocols security
- security solutions for IIoT applications
- Intrusion detection and prevention system
- Data security, privacy and trustworthiness
- Security and trust management for fog and edge computing
- Machine learning, deep learning and blockchain-based security solutions
- Threat and vulnerability in platforms and protocols
- Hardware security.
